My grandfather Clarence Frederick Ives (1899-1984) can be looked up on ancestry.com and I have attached a few things to him but have more. He was one of the greatest men I have ever known, going from nothing, left home early to being a pioneer of a small desert town in California (Inyokern) where he homesteaded and became one of the most influencial men there. He started it originally so his brother Norman H. Ives who used to fly with Lindberg could fly in to visit him. I have the article from the Prairie City, Ill library with his brother Norman mentioned as one of the eight crewman killed on a flight that crashed in a lightning storm after the wing probably came off the plane. He owned the grocery store in town, operated

Personal Communication, James Harvey Ives --
Albert Melvin (RN=275) and Ruth Ann ~Nelson) (RN=276) Ives

Albert Melvin Ives the 2nd oldest son of Abraham (RN=1217), was born at Troy, New York, 28 August 1855. He passed away at Shattuck, Oklahoma, 10 Oct 1942 at the age of 86 years, 11 months, and 10 days. He died of cancer of the prostate.

At an early age he moved with his parents to New York City where he learned the trades of carpenter, and cabinet maker; and most of his years were spent in that business.

Albert Melvin Ives
Albert Melvin Ives By Ella (Mrs. Hurchel) Ives (his daughter-in-law) whom James and Eileen Ives visited in April 1988.

During WW1, Albert and Hilke were living on the farm in Beaver, OK. Albert was 62 years old in 1917, Melvin and Hurchel were the only children at home. When they went off to war, Hurchel's wife, Ella, stayed with the folks on the farm. When the boys came back from the war, Hurchel and Ella moved to Liberal KS. Melvin stayed with the folks.

Ella thought her mother-in-law, Hilke, was the greatest. They got along great they would get together and sew or quilt. Ella said Albert was very strict and his word was law.

Hilke raised Albert's 2 sons (Harvey and Clarence) by his first wife Ruth.

Ella remembers driving to San Bernardino to visit Harvey and Myrtie; their children had all left home. She remembered Myrtie worked as a cleaning woman at the Post Office; she was very energetic and hardworking.

Ella told about Ruth and Harry Peckham visiting her and Hurchel one year in Liberal, KS. Some years later she and Hurchel drove to CA. to visit someone. While there they contacted Harry and Ruth and they (Hurchel and Ella) were unable to visit them (Harry and Ruth) because they (Harry and Ruth) were both sick from some illness they got in Mexico.

Ella thought both Ruth Nelson and her (2) baby girls were buried in a graveyard north of Talmage NE. and Viola was buried in Talmage also. (On our trip to Talmage, we were only able to locate Ruth's grave. Lot #82, Grant Evergreen Cemetery, in the town of Brock.)

Ella told about Albert's third wife, Mrs Belie. She talked him into selling the farm and putting the money in their bank account, which she inherited upon his death. (We heard from someone later that they had an agreement: If she would take care of him until his death, she would inherit the money.)

There was a plot of land in NE for him to be buried as he wished. But, Mrs Belie had him buried next to his 2nd wife in Liberal, KS and the boys didn't say anything.

Hurchel passed away 16 June 1983 the same day as Merlyn Ives of Klamath Falls, OR.

Merlyn's father, Frances Merlyn Ives, lives in Eugene, OR and visited Liberal, KS, at Christmas last year (1987) The house from the farm in Beaver, OK that Albert owned was moved to Perryton, TX.

The following was visited by James and Eileen Ives April 1988. The farm in OK was 80 acres (1/2 section) and is located 7 mi. so. and 10 mi, west of Beaver, OK. The farm has a creek bed running through it which carved a deep gorge through one side of the property. The property has not had cultivation in some time and is overgrown with weeds. Old fence posts are still visible, but the wire is gone. The present owner bought the property in 1983. He owns 3 sections of which these 80 acres are a part. The property on either side of the 80 acres and across from it is under cultivation. All roads within 5 miles of the section are dirt roads. There are no oil or gas wells in all of the area

By Francis Merlyn Ives (his grandson) whom James and Eileen visited Sept, 1989. Merlin one time asked Albert: To what do you attribute your good life. Answer: Good wives who looked after me and fed me 3 meals a day; and, at age 82 I'm going to get married again.

Albert was a carpenter and he had a shop in Beaver, OK. Merlyn was the only one allowed to use his tools. There were 2 conditions: (1) he was only to use them when no one else was around and (2) he was to put them away exactly where he found them.

Albert was strict with his children, but not with his grandchildren. He was also stingy with money.

Albert made a checkerboard table. It was a beautiful piece of work: each square in the checkerboard was made from a different kind of wood, and was completely hand done. This table is now lost and Merlyn is still looking for it.

Albert was making a door for someone and he decided he didn't like it, so he changed it to what he thought would look good. When he was finish ed, the owner came and didn't like it, so he fired Albert. Albert said this was the only time he had ever been fired. But he went next door and got another job.

At about 78 years old, Albert was on a roof installing shingles. When his sons (Melvin, Arthur and Hurchel) found out, they went right over. Arther said: Dad you get right down from there. (This was the first time he had ever told his father what to do.) The boys said that Albert could be a contractor, but he was to hire someone to do the roof work; or they would contact all contractors in the area and tell them not to give Albert any work. Albert came down from the roof.

His influence throughout his life was for the building and betterment of any community in which he lived.

Additional information for Elias Waggoner Ives:

From Nancy Curann, personal Communication, 1 March 2012 --

"After the Civil War, he was a homesteader in Nebraska. I was relieved to find an almanac for Antelope County that verified the family story about the plague of locusts/grasshoppers that caused him and his wife, Nancy Freelove Hopkins, to come back to the family farm in Luzerne. The locusts had eaten the fair crop of wheat in the field and even the paint off the shovels.

Nancy died at 30 years of age, leaving him with a passel of children to bring up alone, and they recounted his "creative" ways.

He always wanted to go to sea, so he bought a little island in the Hudson River and built a house in the shape of a ship.

He lost his hearing in the war, but he had the first telephone. He would crank the phone and wait a few seconds and then say "Rilla, get me Ai." He'd wait a bit and say "Ai, come to dinner on Sunday." And hang up. And Ai and the family came to dinner on Sunday.

Grandpa Elias was a bit of a tinkerer. At Christmas time, he thought that one side of a Christmas tree was sadly unappreciated, so he put the tree on a platform that turned with a crank. One year the rascally boys got that platform whirling around so fast that the lighted candles started flying off the tree in all directions. Those were the days!

One year, he asked two of his grandsons whether they would like to go to the Buffalo Bill Wild West show on tour, in Albany. He already had the tickets. Turns out that Buffalo Bill was an old friend of his, from the days in Nebraska.

The best story, the one that speaks to me, is that when he built a house in town, he built it with a front hallway that had shelves on the walls. It was the first free lending library in Luzerne and later became the core of the library built in the town building."

Biography

Chester Eugene Ives was born on June 24, 1871, in Volney, Oswego, New York, to George Ives and Jane Merton.[1] He lived in Election District 3 of Volney with his family, which also included a sister, Addie, and three brothers--George, John, and Edgar.[2] As of 1892, he, his parents, John, and Edgar were still living here.[3]

He was married to Blanche Skeel on March 5, 1895.[1] They lived together in Volney, where by 1900 they had been joined by their oldest child, Hazel.[4] By 1905, they were located in election district two, and had been joined by twins Earl and Erma.[5] By 1910, they were joined by another daughter, Mildred.[6] A servant, Peter Bondie, was living with them at the time of the 1915 New York Census (which commonly is mis-transcribed to represent Hazel to be 75 as opposed to 15.)[7] By 1920, their oldest daughter, Hazel, had moved off the farm, but they had been joined by Harriet[8] By 1925, Earl had left the home, but they had been joined by another son, Wendell.[9]

In 1930, while his wife and children had moved to their new home in the city at 415 Utica Street, Chester was still on the farm at 175 Silk Road.[10]

Chester died at home at 415 Utica Street on August 10, 1932.[1] He is buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.[11]

George expanded his father's saw mill in North Tryon, adding a sash and door factory, and a moulding machine. Besides being a miller, George was a farmer. He built a one and one half story frame dwelling in 1874 on the northwest corner of the Bedeque Road and the road leading to Mount Tryon. A back kitchen was added to the house to accommodate the serving of meals to the numerous farmers who came long distances to have mill work done, as well as the hired hands who helped on the farm. This part of the house also had two upstairs rooms used as sleeping accommodations for hired help. When George Ives died in 1933, the saw mill was taken over by his son, Everett, who returned from Sydney, NS. George and Charlotte were members of the Tryon United Church.

Charles E. Ives is a prominent and successful attorney of Amboy, which city has remained his place of residence since December, 1854, or for almost six decades. Immediately after the close of the Civil war, in which he had participated as a loyal defender of the Union, he entered his father's law office and subsequently practiced in association with him for a period of twenty years, the firm being known as W. E. Ives & Son. Since 1908 he has practiced his profession independently and has been accorded a liberal and lucrative clientage. His birth occurred in Pavilion, Kendall county, Illinois, on the 14th of October, 1842, his parents being William E. and Susan (Ryan) Ives. The father remained an able and successful representative of the legal profession in Amboy from 1854 until his death more than a half century later. During that period he was honored by election to the position of state's attorney and also served as mayor of Amboy. His demise occurred in 1908, when he had attained the venerable age of eighty seven and a half years, while his wife was called to her final rest in 1883, at the age of sixty-two years. The remains of both were interred in Amboy. Representatives of the Ives family, which is of English origin, came to the United States at an early period in the history of this country. A Mr. Bingham, brother of the great grandmother of our subject, served under Colonel Ethan Allen in the Revolutionary struggle. In the acquirement of an education Charles E. Ives attended school at Mount Morris, Illinois, and later pursued his studies in the Chicago University, leaving that institution in 1862, however, in order to join the boys in blue in their defense of the Union. In June of that year he became a member of the Sixty-ninth Illinois Volunteer Regiment and in 1864 reenlisted in the One Hundred and Forty-sixth Illinois Infantry, serving with the latter command until the cessation of hostilities. He proved a brave and valorous soldier and returned home with a creditable military record. Having determined upon the legal profession as a life work, he entered the law office of his father and eventually became his partner, practicing in association with him under the firm style of W. E. Ives & Son for a period of twenty years. Since 1908 he has practiced independently at Amboy. His success in a professional way affords the best evidence of his capabilities in this line. He is a strong advocate with the jury and concise in his appeals before the court. Much of the success which has attended him in his professional career is undoubtedly due to the fact that in no instance will he permit himself to go into court with a case unless he has absolute confidence in the justice of his client's cause. Basing his efforts on this principle, from which there are far too many lapses in professional ranks, it naturally follows that he seldom loses a case in whose support he is enlisted. On the 18th of March, 1874, at Fenton, Michigan, Mr. Ives was united in marriage to Miss Eva J. Lamb, a daughter of the Rev. Aroswal and Sophia Lamb, her father being a pastor at Hartland, Michigan. Our subject and his wife have three children, as follows: William E., who is an expert machinist in the employ of the Public Service Company; George S., a druggist of Franklin Grove, Illinois; and Eva F., who is the wife of F. J. Blocher, a clothing merchant of Franklin Grove, Illinois. Mr. Ives is a republican in his political views and has ably served in the capacity of justice of the peace since 1901. He has likewise acted as town clerk and has made a highly creditable record as a public official. His religious faith is indicated by his membership in the Baptist church, and he also belongs to the Grand Army of the Republic. He is a dependable man under any condition and in any emergency His quietude of deportment, his easy dignity, his frankness and cordiality of address, with the total absence of anything sinister or anything to conceal, foretoken a man who is ready to meet any obligation of life with the confidence and courage that come of conscious personal ability, a right conception of things and an habitual regard for what is best in the exercise of human activities.

Sister Annie was the daughter of Thomas Ennals Waggaman & Jane Lenthall. She married Eugene Semmes Ives on 5 June 1889 & they had 8 children. Anna spent much of her life behind the seclusion & security of convent walls & planned to become a nun. She was sitting in a drawing room when she met Eugene Ives. He engaged her in a game of 20 questions, & she gave the correct answers. Not knowing that she had passed the test, she boarded a train to take her to the convent where she planned to enter the order. As steam clouds enveloped the railway car, the senator came bouncing into the train. He proposed to her on her way to the convent. She changed her mind & gave up the life of a cloistered nun to become Mrs Senator Eugene S Ives of New York. Having had a convent education, she returned to school years later & earned a Bachelor's & then a Master's Degree. She went on to work toward her PhD.

Truman C. Ives married second Elizabeth Frances Caldwell. She was born in Walpole Twp; Haldimand County, Ontario on 19 May 1885,[27255] and she died in Connecticut on 15 November 1963.[27256]

Additional information for Truman C. Ives:

Personal correspondence from Danielle Ives, 11 March 2016 --

"(my grandfather's) mother was Elizabeth Frances Caldwell, born in Canada, not Myra Carter. Truman C. was in fact married to a Myra Carter, but it appears that he abandoned/left (perhaps divorced?) Myra and the son they had together and took up with Elizabeth, with whom he had five children, one of whom was Andrew. Truman and Myra had one son, Clifford Stephen Ives, who would have been the half brother of my grandfather, Andrew. My dad had no idea that he had a half-uncle or that his grandfather had a first wife until I started this research (I have no idea if Andrew knew), although one or two older family members may have had some knowledge. It is likely that Myra and Truman did not formally divorce (I believe Truman and Elizabeth were married in Canada) "

Sorry it has been so long since I left this post. I never thought anyone would answer it. So happy you did. If you are still out there could you please tell me more about the Ives. I just recently found a person that I'm pretty sure was my mother's father. His name was Arthur Livernon Ives. He went by the stage name of Vernon Ives, or Vern Ives. He was known as a Violinist in 1919. He was married twice but I can't fine out much about his wives except they didn't have the right name and they were not the age listed on my mother's birth or adoption papers.His first wife's sister was Edith. Oh sweet mysteries of life. Mother is still with me at age 93 and so happy we were able to find this much information. At least she found her family. Looks like Ives is it. Would love to receive any portion of the book that you feel might help us.EMail stortell55@cox.net"

" Biography

Frederick completed his education at the Franklin Academy in Malone, NY. Before his marriage, Fred enlisted in the Vermont National Guard and served during the Spanish-American War. After his discharge from service, he married and they moved to Bethel, Vermont. Frederick wanted to try his hand at farming. Their stay in Vermont didn't last long, but they made life-long friends in Bethel and returned regularly to visit them. Closest of their Bethel friends were Helen Louise (Southworth) Miller and her husband Rev. (John) Wesley Miller. The Millers also had family ties in the Tupper Lake, NY area.

The Ives family returned to the Tupper Lake area in 1900, where Frederick obtained a position as superintendent at the Meigs estate at Follensby Pond, NY. The position was full time and the family lived on the Follensby Pond estate for eight years. Their two sons were born there. Ferris J Meigs, through his company, the Santa Clara Lumber Co., had vast timberland holdings in the area, and operated a saw mill in Tupper Lake, NY. As the Ives family grew older, and the children needed to go to school, they moved to Tupper Lake, and Fred worked as a foreman in the Meigs sawmill for a time.

Frederick learned the barber trade from his brother Silas, and worked as a barber in the Hotel Altamont, located in Tupper Lake. He later had a concession of a barber shop, pool room, and lunch room in the neighboring mill town of Conifer. During this time he took a part-time job as an insurance agent for Travelers Insurance Company. Insurance eventually became his only business.

Active in fraternal and civic work, they spent much of their time cultivating the Ives flower garden. Mrs. Edith Ives had a large flower garden and kept the churches in Tupper lovely all summer with the nicely arranged bouquets. They also did some landscaping gardens for some of the estates in and near Tupper Lake.[1] [2] [3]

Spanish-American War

Frederick enlisted in the Green Mountain Boys, as the Vermont National Guard has been named since before the Revolutionary War. He enlisted in Company "E", in Barre, Vermont, May 7, 1898, at age 21. The Vermont units did not see battle, but did experience indescribable misery during training. Suffering from high temperatures, poor water, typhoid fever, dysentery, disgusting food, and lack of medical equipment at Chickamauga Park, Georgia. Fredrick was listed as "sick in his quarters" on August 11, 1898. Of 1,080 Vermont soldiers at Camp Thomas, 9 died at Camp Thomas, while 27 more died upon their return home. Frederick was discharged October 27, 1898, with the rest of Company "E".[4] The Camp Thomas base was the Nations largest training ground for the Spanish-American War. About 72,000 troops trained there.[5] Frederick remarked to his children that because of the sickness he contacted while in the service, he returned to the mountain air of northern New York to try to improve his health.[1]

Death

Frederick died at the Fort Wayne, Indiana, VA Hospital where he had been admitted a few days earlier. He was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Frances Ives Bone of Fort Wayne at the time of his last illness. [6]
